

Monthly Report – January 2023

STRATEGY OBJECTIVE

The Compartment seeks to generate steady returns over multiple market cycles through a diversified allocation of capital across multiple market factors. The Compartment will invest mainly at least 70% of its net assets in UCITS and/or in other eligible UCIs ("Target Funds") managed or advised by third-party investment managers selected by the Management Company.

The Compartment may also invest in some or all of the following multiple non-traditional or "alternative" strategies:

- Equity Hedge
- Relative Value
- Multi strategies Funds
- Global Macro
- Systematic/CTA
- Options Strategies
- Event-driven

The fund is actively managed without a benchmark.

MANAGER'S COMMENT

January was dominated by a new paradigm of risk asset bullishness. Equities rallied strongly, with the S&P 500 up +6.3%, and bonds +3.2%. The inflows became more important as the FOMO siren grew louder: beaten up assets rallied the most despite the absence of fundamental support. The SUIT portfolio was decidedly positive for the month, although not in comparison to the ebullient long-only markets. Six of nine managers were positive, resulting in returns of +0.6%. On the negative side, only one manager detracted meaningfully: the AI Systematic manager, hit by the usual sharp reversals to price moves across FX, rates, equities, and commodities. The short-term trading manager contributed +0.3% as the program was able to navigate the reversals profitably. The Asian Macro manager was also firmly positive at +0.3% at portfolio level with the strongest contribution from fixed income positions. The other macro and fixed income constituents were positive but have taken a more cautious stance. It is also worth noting that the convertible bond manager was able to capitalize on the pick-up in well priced issuance. We keep looking for an additional equity long short position to replace the equity market neutral manager, now fully sold.

One particular concern remains the general level of liquidity in public markets: therefore, it is premature to take on too much risk.
